

High Spectral Resolution FTIR Bibliography

Compiled by
Jean M. Phillips

Since 1965, a group of scientists at the Space Science and Engineering Center and their affiliates have been studying infrared radiances obtained from ground-based instrumentation. The High Spectral Resolution Fourier Transform Infrared Radiation Bibliography is a comprehensive compilation of publications by this research group, including refereed and unrefereed publications. The HTML version available at <<http://www.ssec.wisc.edu/library/ftir.htm>> is searchable and includes links to full-text journal articles where allowed.
